

The Warrant

IM WM, I now deliver into your special keeping the Warrant of the Lodge. It has been for many years entrusted to the hands of very worthy and distinguished Brethren, and I am sure that in delivering it into your charge it will lose none of its former splendour, but will be transmitted to your successor pure and unsullied as you now receive it.

The Book of Constitutions and By-Laws

IM The B of C I also present to you - hands B of C to WM which I strongly recommend to your notice, for you will find that there is scarcely a case of difficulty can occur in the Lodge in which that book will not set you right. These - hands By-laws to WM are the By-laws of your Lodge (which I recommend you to have read at least once in the year in order that the Brethren may not plead ignorance of them).
